

PATRICK T COOPER EMISSARY & CEO = CHIEF ENCOURAGEMENT OFFICER

From wardrobe stylist to CEO, Patrick T. Cooper's career encompasses over 20 years in design. His prowess for defining creative strategies to fuel brands is what continually ignites Patrick. Innate artistic aptitude makes him a highly sought-after partner for Fortune 500 companies looking to garner consumer brand loyalty. Patrick's diverse body of work includes corporate partners like Masonite as well as entertainment clients Fantasia Barrino, American Idol season 3 winner, rock band 3 Doors Down, and legendary mogul Sean Combs. Patrick T. Cooper's cutting-edge sense of style and genius allows him to envision beyond the predictable to create thought-provoking content that positively impacts diverse audiences globally.

As an African-American man and LGBTQ advocate, Patrick is the epitome of the convergence of eclectic style, art, culture and people. As the official Chief Encouragement Officer, he's committed to living authentically and celebrating originality. Patrick's mantra, "Being a trailblazer isn't enough if we don't encourage others to find and live in their purpose!"